DEBUTANTES SHOW ACTING AND STAGE DANCING THIS WEEK

Girls Protective League Will Be Helped by Amateurs' Presentation of "What Next?"

TOW that the debutantes have less to do with canteen work nd war relief they are turning their attention to local charities. This week will be full of interest with the performances by amateurs which begin to-morrow evening with "What Next?" a musical comedy to be presented in the Princess Theatre for the benefit of the New York Protective Association and the Girls' Protective League. The score is the work of Deems Taylor. The book and lyrics are the combined efforts of Mrs. Frank W. Frueauff, Miss Mercedes de Acosta, Charles Shaw and T. Gaillard Thomas 2d, all well known in society.

Rehearsals have taken up so much of the time of the participants that such frivolous diversions as mere dances have had to be given up and by to-morrow night all are expected to be letter perfect in their roles. The cast will comprise Miss Elsie Everett, who will have the leading role, the Misses Hope Williams, Evelyn Lear, Beth Martin, Frank Pollock, Henry C. Smith, Julian Thompson and Amory I. Haskell. The work of the amateurs will be strengthened somewhat by that of professionals.

In the chorus will be some girls dentified with the debutantes of this and last season. Among them are the Misses Beatrice and Sheila Byrne Dolly and Kitty Kimball, Maud and Margaret Kahn, Suzanne Pierson, Catharine Oakey, Fanny Billings Sarah J. Sanford, Elise Hughes, Dorothy Post Clapp, Katharine Dwight Porter, Elizabeth Emmet, Margaret Natalle Cook, Marie La Marche, Marianne McKeever, Betty Jackson, Marie J. Leary, Lela Emery, Elsa Horne and Graziella Castelli.

Ben All Haggin has been acting as artistic director of the production and will present several of his famous tableaux vivant in which will pose women and men of society. The third act of the comedy will present a cabaret show and will give an opportunity for some specialties in the way of dances by the Misses. Bentrice Byrns, Grace Bristed and Agnes de Selding. Mrs. Frederick Dalziel, who as Miss Emily Hoffman often appeared in amateur performances, will do a Spanish dance with Mrs. Monroe Douglas Robnson, Caro Delvaille and Luis Mora Mrs. Bessie McCov Davis has been coaching the dancers, and the comedy has been staged by Frank Smithson.

Boxes for to-morrow night will cost Boxes for to-morrow had to the state of the mean considerable hard work for the Glendenning, T. Wigney Percyval and participants.

An ambitious production by members of the Spence Alumna Society will be the delightful ballet of "Coppelia," with music by Delibes, familiar to those who are habitues of the Metropolitan Opera House. It will be given be divided between the Milk for Chilin the ballroom of the Plaza on Tues- dren of America and the American day afternoon and evening and on Wednesday evening.
